Attitude to Risk (tick required risk level, following completion of a risk questionnaire, as appropriate for product type)	Self	Partner
Level 1 - Very Low People in this category have a very low risk tolerance, and are highly likely to be concerned about the possibility of losing money, and they potentially have very little experience in investments or may be an investor seeking capital security. You would probably prefer your investment to fluctuate less and make more modest returns than risk losing money for higher returns. Keeping your money safe, rather than exposing it to the risks of financial markets, is likely to be your priority. However, if inflation is high, it will reduce the value of your investment, which could therefore decrease in "real-terms." Investing in anything other than cash is unlikely to be appropriate for you.
Level 2 - Low People in this category have a low risk tolerance, and are likely to be concerned about the possibility of losing money, and may have limited experience of investment products or may be an investor seeking capital security. You would probably prefer your investment to fluctuate less and make more modest returns than risk losing money for higher returns. You're prepared to move away from investing in cash and to accept some investment risk in products such as Fixed Interest Securities, Property or UK equities for the longer term. You accept that growth prospects are limited and this means you should not expect the value of your investments to rise much more than if you had kept your money in a bank account or other low risk investment. Additionally you understand that your investment value will fluctuate which could mean that you may get back less than you invested.
Level 3 - Low Medium People in this category have a low-medium risk tolerance, and are likely to be concerned about the possibility of losing money, but do not want to completely ignore the possibility of making higher returns. You may have some experience of investment products, or may value capital security over high returns. You probably want greater returns than are offered by bank accounts and other low risk investments, and therefore are prepared to accept some fluctuation in return for potential growth in products such as Fixed Interest Securities, Property, UK Equity or International Equity and realise that these are likely to be better for longer-term returns. You could get back less than you invested.
Level 4 - Low Medium People in this category have a low-medium risk tolerance, and are likely to be concerned about the possibility of losing money, but do not want to completely ignore the possibility of making higher returns. You may have some experience of investment products, or may value capital security over high returns. You probably want greater returns than are offered by bank accounts and other low risk investments, and therefore are prepared to accept some fluctuation in return for potential growth in products such as Fixed Interest Securities, Property, UK Equity or International Equity and realise that these are likely to be better for longer-term returns. You could get back less than you invested.
Level 5 - Medium People in this category have a medium risk tolerance, and would probably prefer investments to fluctuate less and make more modest returns than risk losing money for higher returns. It is likely that you are looking for a balance of risk and reward, with the potential for higher returns in the longer term, and you may have some experience of investment, including investing in products containing riskier assets such as equities and bonds or may be willing to take some risks with your capital. You are probably prepared to accept some fluctuation in order to make higher returns than exclusively low risk investments and are aware that the value of your investment will rise and fall. Examples of investments may include Fixed Interest Securities, Property, UK Equities, and International Equities. You could get back less than you invested.

Level 6 - Medium

People in this category have a medium risk tolerance, and would probably prefer investments to fluctuate less and make more modest returns than risk losing money for higher returns. It is likely that you are looking for a balance of risk and reward, with the potential for higher returns in the longer term, and you may have some experience of investment, including investing in products containing riskier assets such as equities and bonds or you are comfortable with taking some risks with your capital. You are probably prepared to accept some fluctuation in order to make higher returns than exclusively low risk investments and are aware that the value of your investment will rise and fall. Examples of investments may include Fixed Interest Securities, Property, UK Equities, and International Equities. You could get back less than you invested.

Level 7 - Medium High

People in this category have a medium-high risk tolerance, they will usually be fairly experienced investors, who may have used a range of investment products in the past and probably concentrate on getting higher returns on investments or they are an investor willing to take a higher degree of risk with their capital. You're prepared to accept that this will increase the risk of large fluctuations in your investment value and understand that this is crucial in terms of generating long-term return. Examples of investments may include Fixed Interest Securities, Property, UK Equities, International Equities and Emerging Markets. You understand there is a possibility you may lose some or all of your capital.

Level 8 - Medium High

People in this category have a medium-high risk tolerance, they will usually be fairly experienced investors, who may have used a range of investment products in the past and probably concentrate on getting higher returns on investments or they are an investor willing to take a higher degree of risk with their capital. You're prepared to accept that this will increase the risk of large fluctuations in your investment value and understand that this is crucial in terms of generating long-term return. Examples of investments may include Fixed Interest Securities, Property, UK Equities, International Equities and Emerging Markets. You understand there is a possibility you may lose some or all of your capital.

Level 9 - High

People in this category have a high-risk tolerance, and probably concentrate on getting higher returns in the longer term and are less concerned about losing money. They are usually experienced investors who may have used a range of investment products in the past, and who may take an active approach to managing their investments, or they may be an investor willing to take a high degree of risk with their capital. You understand there may be sharp, day to day fluctuations in your investment value. Examples of investments may include UK Equities, International Equities and Emerging Markets. You accept there is a risk of losing some or all of your capital.

Level 10 - Very High

People in this category have a very high-risk tolerance, and probably concentrate on getting higher returns and are significantly less concerned about losing money. You are likely to be an experienced investor with a good understanding of the risk/reward balance or you will be an investor willing to take a very high degree of risk with your capital. You understand your investment will be exposed to significant levels of risk, and will be exposed to significant and very sharp day to day fluctuations. Examples of investments may include UK Equities, International Equities and Emerging Markets. You accept there is a risk of losing some or all of your capital.
